The application will be considered in relation to the RC&D Area Plan, the current Annual Plan of Work, existing priorities and staff workload. The ability of the sponsor to carry projects through to completion and the feasibility of this specific project, are both important criteria for consideration. If the Board of Directors determines that the project is well conceived and will help achieve its rural development goals, and if it can be addressed in a timely manner, the application will be approved.

Official approval of the project by the Board of Directors allows the RC&D staff to work closely with the project sponsor to provide appropriate assistance. It also allows the Board of Directors to provide various RC&D resources to complete the project.
